FINAL Central Terminal Summer Concert Series to Feature 3 Artists

BUFFALO, NY – The Buffalo Central Terminal will celebrate the final installation of the new 'Central Terminal Summer Concert Series' on Thursday, August 10th from 5:00pm to 8:00pm on the Great Lawn. The final concert will feature live music from Will Holton, RNSM, and Celina Graves, highlighting several genres—Jazz, R&B, Latin, Merengue, Bachata, and Pop genres. Live music will be joined by local food and beverage from Buffalo Brewing Co., the Mad Sauces Food Truck, and the House of Munch Food Truck.

“It has been great to see the community come out for the Summer Concert Series at the Terminal,” said Lindsey Taylor, event management consultant. “We’re pumping it up for this last show in the series bringing not two, but three artists to rock the Great Lawn.”

About Will Holton

Will Holton is a Buffalo-bred saxophonist who draws inspiration from Jazz, R&B, and Soul artists. An ambassador for the country’s largest Juneteenth Festival, he has also performed at statewide music festivals including Buffalo’s Pine Grill Reunion, Rochester’s Roc the Park and Afrikan American Festivals, Syracuse’s CNY Jazz Festival, and annual performance in White Plains, NY, and Washington DC.

About RNSM

RNSM is an unparalleled group of Buffalo musicians, performing as a trio, quartet, or quintet. RNSM’s sound is a refreshing fusion of several genres—from Funk, Jazz, and Pop to R&B – and it is Latin Rhythms that continue to drive the band’s unique sound.

About Celina Graves

Celina Graves was born into early 90’s music, surrounded by the funky sounds of new R&B, jazz, hip hop, and the music of her father, who as a professional musician, played and wrote at home. California-born and bred, Celina strives to inspire people to be themselves and never change for anyone or anything. In addition to progressing to the semifinal round of season 15 of Americas Got Talent T.V. show, she sang the National Anthem for the 2020 San Diego MLB Playoff game and their 2021 season opener along with the MLS LA Galaxy game.
